

Wage-Hour Fight Opens in Senate

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first major test on the minimum wage bill comes in the Senate today with Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) chief sponsor of the legislation predicting a victory for his side.

The vote comes on an amendment by Sen. Spessard L. Holland (D-Miss.) to strike from the measure practically all of its provisions for extending wage-hour law coverage to five million more workers.

The Democratic presidential nominee told newsmen he believed the votes were available to defeat Holland's proposal. Republican sources confirmed this, although many GOP senators are expected to support the Florida senator.

The Kennedy bill would raise the minimum wage to $1.25 in three steps and also bring under the law about five million additional workers.

The bulk of the new coverage would be in large-size retail and service establishments. These are exempt now. Most of the opposition to the bill is directed against the coverage provisions.

Holland would eliminate from the bill all coverage of retail stores, hotels, restaurants, laundries and other service establishments. He would leave in sections which would bring under the law 200,000 seamen, local transit employees, fish processing workers and telephone switchboard operators.

After the vote on the Holland proposal, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois planned to call up a substitute

Angry Congo Leader Calls Martial Law

By LYNN HEINZERLING

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—In a new defiance of the U.N. command in the Congo, Premier Patrice Lumumba has proclaimed martial law for six months.

It was not clear what effect the volatile premier's latest maneuver would have. He proclaimed a state of emergency last week, and Tuesday armed Congolese troops and police searched living quarters of Belgians and U.N. personnel, arrested some Belgians and detained some U.N. personnel briefly.

However, U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld and the U.N. command showed no sign of bowing to Lumumba's demand that the U.N. forces be used to establish his government's authority over dissident Katanga province and other sections of the sprawling nation that show signs of wanting local autonomy.

Along with his proclamation of martial law, the Congo premier angrily accused the U.N. forces of failing to carry out their duties and making martial law necessary to meet the crisis in his chaotic country. He demanded the immediate withdrawal from the Congo of the Swedish contingent of the U.N. force whose loyalty to Hammarskjöld's orders is unquestioned.

Hammarskjöld, who fled back to New York Tuesday night to ask the Security Council how the U.N. Congo command should meet Lumumba's growing hostility, refused to comment on the martial law declaration. The council is expected to meet Thursday on the Congo situation.

Soviet More Interested in Propaganda Than in Executing Pilot Powers

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials expected the Soviets to try to bring the last ounce of propaganda they can from a showpiece trial of Francis Gary Powers, starting today.

Because of this, they held hopes that the American U2 pilot would get off with much less than the maximum penalty under Soviet law—death by shooting.

They figure Powers might even receive the minimum full term of seven years. There was a possibility that Premier Nikita Khrushchev, in a gesture to show magnanimity, would commute a stiff sentence.

But Washington informants also foresaw the possibility that Khrushchev, in his new get-tough cold war policy, would have Powers executed to "teach a lesson" to the world.

Depending on the outcome of the trial, U.S. authorities were preparing to seek post-trial negotiations with the Soviets for Powers' return.

There seemed to be little advance doubt that the court would convict the flier.

It was assumed, too, that the Kremlin had already decided on the sentence.

Moscow has already gone to great lengths to make the most of the downing of Powers' high-flying U2 reconnaissance plane deep inside Soviet territory on May 1. Khrushchev cited Powers' flight in calling off President Eisenhower's visit to the Soviet Union and upsetting the Paris summit conference last May 16.

The advance buildup, plus Soviet refusal to let any American see Powers before the trial, has convinced U.S. officials that Khrushchev aims to squeeze out every bit of propaganda gain in a public show attended by invited observers from around the world.

$30,000-Year Spy, Powers Tells Soviet

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP)—In a Soviet court today, Francis Gary Powers pictured himself as a $30,000-a-year spy for the United States, but one who knew little of anything about the equipment he was carrying. He said a superior officer had assured him it was "absolutely safe to fly over the Soviet Union."

With his grief-stricken wife and parents taking on the U2 pilot stand in the prisoner's dock before the military section of the Soviet Supreme Court and pleaded guilty to espionage.

Television, motion picture and still cameras ground away at the defendant—first American ever to stand trial on capital charges in the Soviet Union—answered how after hour of questions. The trial was in the Hall of Columns, site of the famous purge trials of the 30s and the place where both Lenin and Stalin lay in state after death.

But much more than the young pilot—today was his 31st birthday—was on trial. The Soviet Union had made no secret of its hope to put United States policy and United States acts in the dock.

Under questioning by the Soviet prosecutor, following 117 days in Soviet captivity, Powers insisted again and again that he had no knowledge of the specific photographic and recording apparatus aboard his jet. But he admitted he assumed the U2 was on a spy mission.

He said he was making $2,500 a month in his job under a secret contract.

He denied knowing what U.S. agency was in charge of the high-

Body of Vanished Child Found

MERCED, Calif. (AP)—There were the little red and white pajama bottoms and the crumpled white dress and, near them in the dense brush, the nude, decomposed body of a child.

That was the way they found Angie May Stewart, 8, who vanished from a camp on the San Joaquin River near Merced a week ago.

It was 38 miles from the camp to the Sierra foothill ranch, just west of Yosemite National Park, where her body had been hidden 400 feet from the road.

Army Chief Warrant Officer Clarence Ashley, 35, who had been questioned about the girl's disappearance last week, telephoned officers when he heard the child's body had been found.

He was brought here and booked early today for investigation.

Crime Up 9% in First Six Month

WASHINGTON (AP)—A "startling" increase in U. S. Crime during the first six months of 1960 was reported yesterday by FBI director J. Edgar Hoover on the basis of preliminary police reports from cities of over 25,000 population.

The report said these urban areas had an increase of 9 per cent in crime over the same period of 1959. All major categories of offenses were up.

Robberies were up 13 per cent, burglaries rose 12 per cent, larcenies of sums over $50 rose 8 per cent, murders advanced 6 per cent, forcible rape and auto theft climbed 5 per cent and aggravated assault went up 4 per cent.

The national trend was reversed in Little Rock, the only major Arkansas city listed. The report showed a drop in all crimes except murder in Little Rock. There were seven murders in the first six months of this year compared with two for the same period of 1959.

Conservative Strength Is Given GOP

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said today Republican conservatives are voicing their hope—a move he said increases the November chances of the Nixon-Lodge ticket.

Goldwater had fought as a liberal the GOP platform largely dictated by Vice President Richard M. Nixon, but he said later he would support actively the national ticket of Nixon and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. He said he is encouraged that other Republicans who shared his views are heading his pleas to get out and work for the nominees.

There has been some fear in the Nixon camp that party conservatives might sit out the campaign. But Goldwater, who heads the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said in an interview it isn't working out that way.

"Conservative leaders from all over the country have been writing me, volunteering to do what they can for the ticket," he said. "The mail has been very encouraging."

Goldwater added that Lodge is proving to be a surprise candidate as the vice presidential nominee. Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, also had some nice things to say about Lodge. He said the U.N. ambassador is "adding considerably to the ticket, particularly in New England."

Klein told a news conference Monday that because of the reaction given Nixon on his visit to Maine and because of information gathered in a telephone check of all 50 states, the vice president now feels he has pulled abreast of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, his Democratic opponent.

Nothing that Nixon had said at the Chicago convention that the Republicans were behind at the start, Klein said the GOP nominee "now feels he has closed the gap." "To this, Pierre Salinger, press secretary for Kennedy, replied: 'Mr. Klein may be right.' Kennedy's camp has disputed in the past the efforts of Nixon to assume in the campaign an underdog role that would like to reserve for their own candidate.

Control of Boll Worms Important

Bollworm control is becoming increasingly important in Southwest Arkansas although high temperatures and low humidity have reduced the potential boll weevil outbreak.

Extension Entomologist Grover Dowell says that fourth generation bollworm moths are emerging in large numbers, and eggs and larval counts are much higher than they were a week ago. Correct timing and good coverage will be the key to obtaining good bollworm control.

DDT, Endrin, and Sevin are the materials Dowell says will give effective control. Farmers who are using ground equipment should use at least three nozzles per row, and the total gallonage would be 6 to 10 gallons per acre. Aerial applications should include at least three gallons total volume per acre.

Third generation boll weevils are emerging in most of the cotton fields although high temperature and low humidity have reduced the threat of an outbreak. Fifty percent and more of the boll weevil grubs have been killed by the extremely high temperature of the past few weeks.

Aphid and spider mite activity is practically nil in all the fields scouted for the week ending August 12.

Much of the cotton in the southwest is cutting out because of the shortage of moisture. In these fields, farmers should continue their insecticide application. A good rule of thumb to determine if a boll is susceptible to boll weevil damage is if the boll can be sliced with a knife, the boll weevil can damage the boll. A boll must be protected until it is at least 16 days old.

There were 145 fields scouted in Southwest Arkansas with 145 fields infested with boll weevils, 139 with bollworms, and no aphids or spider mites were found. The average percent punctured squares was 16.

Mob Tells Negro School to Move

UNION, Miss. (AP)—An estimated 600 white persons at a protest meeting warned officials of a Negro college to move the school from their neighborhood, saying they would not be responsible for what might happen if the move was not made.

The group first issued its demand Saturday night on the grounds of the Bay Ridge Christian College about eight miles north of Union. The school is under construction and was to be an institution for training Negro preachers.

A spokesman for the white group claimed the school was five miles from the nearest Negro family.

"The college is situated in a remote area of Neshoba County, with the nearest telephone four miles away."

In Anderson, Ind., E. F. Adcock, an official of the Church of God under whose auspices the college is being built, said, "We realize the problem in the South. We don't like to unnecessarily anger these people."

There is no thought of abandoning the college, he said.

Kidnaped Boy Found Dead in Australia

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Graeme Thorne, 8, a Sydney schoolboy kidnaped 40 days ago is dead. Police found his body, bound and gagged, in the suburb of Seaford today.

The remains had been wrapped in a blanket.

Graeme disappeared on his way to school July 7. It was the first kidnapping of a child for ransom in Australia's history.

Australian police have conducted their most extensive search in history for a missing person since Graeme vanished soon after he left his parents' apartment.

Ninety minutes after he left a phone caller with a foreign accent demanded 25,000 Australian pounds—$56,000—ransom for his safe return. The caller said if the money was not paid "I'll feed him to the sharks."

The parents sought to pay, but were never able to establish when and where the kidnapers wanted them to make contact.

"All we want is our son back unharmed," Thorne said. "The abduction came shortly after the father won $229,000 in a June lottery."

Broadcast pleas by the parents and provincial authorities of New South Wales to the kidnapers to get in touch again, or at least let Graeme write a letter home, went unanswered.

Medical Aid Conceded to Be Limited

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.) says the Senate's only hope of getting a medical care plan for the aged this year is to accept its Finance Committee's version.

That would provide a limited federal-state program of medical aid to elderly persons unable to pay their own medical costs. The House already has passed a similar bill.

Long, a committee member, told the Senate Monday night he believes President Eisenhower would be sure to veto a substitute plan writing medical benefits into the social security system.

Many Democratic senators, including the party's national ticket, Sens. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, favor the social security approach which is part of the Democratic platform.

Officially the Senate doesn't take up the medical aid bill until next week. But in the rambling way it has, it devoted several hours of debate Monday to that subject rather than to the minimum wage bill formally under consideration.

Long said Eisenhower forced Senate Democrats to cut down a social security bill substantially in 1958 by threat of a veto.

"That came when the Congress was about to adjourn and we had to take when he would sign or nothing," Long asserted. "It's the same situation now."

The President has repeatedly stated strong opposition to putting a medical plan for retired persons into the social security system.

Judge and Police Head Are Feuding

MEMPHIS (AP)—A city judge embroiled in a fierce quarrel with police who refused to attend a peace conference today unless specific conditions were met.

Mayor Henry Loeb, who tried to set up the meeting, said the conference was cancelled.

One of the conditions set by Judge William B. Ingram Jr. was that Police Commissioner Claude Armour first "purge himself of contempt of court."

The long feud between Ingram and the police flared openly last Friday when about 200 off-duty officers met "spontaneously" at headquarters to protest the judge's attitude.

Police contend that Judge Ingram repeatedly embarrasses officers in his traffic court by siding with the arrested instead of the arresters. The judge accuses the police of "lawless law enforcement."

After Friday's protest meeting, Commissioner Armour and eight high-ranking police officers called on the mayor to protest the "harassment" of police.

Armour asked that the department be allowed to state its case against the judge at a public meeting of the City Commission. Mayor Loeb agreed but started trying for a private settlement the next day.

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: The writer, one of your consistent readers, doesn't know if you keep a file of the many letters addressed to you. But knowing your interest in the sanctity of marriage, it may be gratifying to read the following:

In a column some while back you reassured a young woman who had a feeling of inferiority because she lacked a college degree. That prompted me to send you a brief biography of my uphill struggles for a livelihood and some measure of success without a formal education. I prize your gracious reply. So much for remembrance. Now I shall tell you about the dignity of the marriage state as referred to above.

My wife and I, both 81, yesterday celebrated our 50th wedding anniversary. Two years ago a sister did likewise. If the Lord spares us, a brother will in three years celebrate his. You set there are still some who believe it when they say, "Until death do us part." Sincerely and cordially, Louis Stern, 6517 North 20th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Helen: I am almost 15. My mother hasn't told me the facts of life yet. All my girl friends know about them. I am shy with her on matters like this. Please tell me how I could ask her, or advise some books to read. I'm sure other girls have problems like this. Thank you. —Mixed-up

Dear, Mixed-up: Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for Sex Education for Teen-agers. This leaflet lists a number of books which would be helpful to your mother as well as to you. Communication between mother and daughter seems to be difficult. Break through by frank, sincere questions which it may be harder for her than for you, to answer.

Dear Helen: I like a boy who goes to my school. He didn't even know me but finally I went out with him. What an awful time I had! Crazy over him but not able to talk, and he was no help. So far I've been out with him three times and no improvement on the conversation line. Please tell me how can I get acquainted, he's like a stone. Should I throw him over for another boy who is a Mr. Personality — but doesn't have the looks or money? —B.J. Dear B. J.: Is it the boy with the looks and money or Mr. Personality who has really captured your heart? Are you putting up with the former because he is well-heeled? Ask yourself these questions. Answer truthfully. Settle for the answer which comes from the heart.

Drugged Tots Now Normal, Doctors Say

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The two "sleeping beauties" now are playfully active and show every sign of being perfectly normal, their physician said today.

Bernadette, 3, and Venita Prantantonio, 5, remain in Mt. Sinai Hospital, where for a time their strange lapses into a coma had puzzled doctors.

Their mother, Lillian Prantantonio, 29, has admitted to police that she gave them barbiturates and has been charged with neglect. Today she, her husband Vincent, and their week-old baby girl were in seclusion.

Inspector Richard R. Wagner said detectives have been questioning a number of people, whom he did not identify, mainly in an effort to learn where the sleeping drugs came from.

Asked whether one of those questioned would be in the category of a boy friend, as reported, he said "we have some corroborative statements that indicate a man is in that category."

The inspector declined to identify the man or give his occupation, age or other details.

The father, commenting on reports his wife might be suffering from some kind of guilt complex over a boy friend, said Monday night "I don't believe a word of it."

"Lillian loves me and I love her. We're going to go together all the way on this," he said.

Dr. Earl E. Smith, the children's physician, told a newsman

Faubus Will Discuss 52 With AEA

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he would discuss proposed Constitutional Amendment 52 with an Arkansas Education Assn. committee, but declined again to take a stand on the controversial measure.

Faubus told a news conference he had been contacted by the AEA group and probably would meet with its members next week.

"That's as far as I will go on the subject now," Faubus said when newsmen asked him whether he is for or against the amendment.

The AEA has taken a stand against the proposal, which would permit local option abandonment of public schools faced with integration. The group recently decided to ask Faubus to state his position on the amendment.

Faubus sponsored the measure in the 1959 Legislature. It will be voted on in the November general election.

The governor was urged by his

GOP Delays Campaign in Arkansas

HOPE SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Atorney Henry Britt, the Republican candidate for governor of Arkansas, said today he wouldn't open a Little Rock campaign headquarters before mid-September.

Earlier Britt had said he would set up the headquarters about the middle of August.

He said plans for the opening had not been completed as soon as expected, but should "begin to fall within the next few days."

Retreating to newsmen that he would make an active campaign, Britt added that he had not decided on a date for a formal kick-off.

He has said previously that states rights will be a major plank in his platform.

Britt has charged that Gov. Orval E. Faubus, whose name will be on the November general election ballot, as the "Democratic nominee for governor, led the people into believing states' rights meant only the racial issue."

The Hot Springs lawyer said that meanwhile Faubus had been "taking more and more power from the counties and centralizing power in state government in Little Rock."

Britt visited Winthrop Rockefeller at Winrock Farm near Morrilton yesterday, but declined to say what was discussed. Friday, Britt will speak at a Republican Party supper in Huntsville. Faubus' home town.

Peach Harvest Is About Over

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas' peach harvest is nearing completion in the main producing areas, the federal state crop reporting service said today.

The agency's weekly crop report emphasized a need for rain for most other crops. It predicted a short cotton crop unless a soaking rain comes soon.

Rain is not an immediate problem for the rice crop, but the report said heavy evaporation is taxing irrigation facilities. Some insect damage to the rice crop was reported from Polk and Woodruff counties.

Late corn has been damaged by insects and lack of rain.

"Do whatever is necessary to help Karen," Zaharias said. "but please don't give her any blood transfusions."

The doctor said they explained they were Jehovah's Witnesses and did not believe in transfusions.

Zaharias said the girl would have died without a transfusion. So he called Superior Court Judge Taylor, who told Zaharias to go ahead and give Karen the transfusion.

I'm not ashamed to admit that I cried when I saw it. It is one of those haunting East-West love stories she particularly loves (along with everyone else). Ask yourself, how did she feel when she saw "Sayonara"? And how did her face look after "Love Is A Many Splendored Thing"?

Didn't the tears in her eyes make her all the more beautiful? So hold her hand — and take her to see "THE WIND CANNOT READ".

Pittsburgh Is 7½ Games Ahead in NL

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Pitching, hitting and bunting. Add em up and they give the Pittsburgh Pirates a bulging, 7½-game lead in the National League pennant race.

The battling Bucs rolled to the biggest lead of the season in the majors by sweeping a doubleheader from Philadelphia, 11-2 and 4-3 Tuesday night, while Milwaukee replaced skidding St. Louis in second place. The sweep gave the Pirates five victories in their last six games.

Right-hander Bob Friend backed by 15 hits, won his 13th in the opener. He allowed seven hits, but walked just one man and put down 17 in a row from the second to the eighth innings.

In the nightcap, Joe Gibbon and winding reliever Roy Face gave up just five hits between them while the Bucs collected a tie-breaking run on a walk in the eighth inning. Three consecutive bunts, by Dick Groat, Bob Skinner and Rocky Nelson, loaded the bases and upset lower Robin Roberts, who then walked Roberto Clemente. It was the only pass Roberts allowed, and gave Clemente five RBI for the night.

Allwaukee moved up as Hank Aaron drove in both runs and Warren Spahn gained his 28th victory in a 2-1 decision at Cincinnati. The Cardinals, with four boots giving San Francisco four unearned runs, lost their fifth in a row, 7-3. Fourth-place Los Angeles defeated the Chicago Cubs 7-5 in 11 innings.

In the American League, the New York Yankees kept a half-game edge as Whitey Ford, working with two days rest at his own request, beat Baltimore with his second straight three-hit, 1-0 decision. The second-place Chicago White Sox scored two unearned runs in the eighth and defeated Detroit 3-2. Cleveland beat Kansas City 4-3 in 10 innings. Washington smashed Boston 8-5.

The Pirates won the opener with a five-run first inning against Jim Ows (3-1). Clemente and Skinner each drove in three runs in the first game.

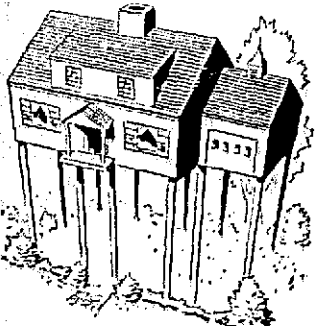

Bill Virdon's triple and an error brought the Bucs from behind with two runs in the third inning of the nightcap. The Phils made it 3-2 in the fourth, but Skinner doubled and Clemente singled him home to square it again in the sixth. Face (7-6) put it away with two innings of hitless relief.

Marciano May Turn Manager

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — Rocky Marciano, former heavyweight champion, said today he may return to boxing as a trainer and manager if he can find an outstanding young fighter with determination and heart.

Marciano, 35, who retired from the ring in 1956, came here Monday night to referee an amateur card and to look at Ed Yakencheck, 21-year-old Mount Bethel, Pa., dairy farmer who was making his third start.

Yakencheck, who had won his two previous amateur fights, made it three in a row with a over Wilson Canada of Philadelphia in the feature heavyweight bout.

"Yakencheck looked all right," said Marciano. "He beat a pretty good opponent with more experience. But I just don't know yet. I'd definitely like to see him fight again under more favorable conditions. I could get interested."

By more favorable conditions, Marciano explained that the two boxers were slipping all over the ring since rain fell during the outdoor show.

Ray Robinson Prepares for Fullmer Go

BALTIMORE (AP) — His suspension lifted by the Maryland State Athletic Commission, Sugar Ray Robinson plans to begin training in a couple of weeks for a middleweight title bout with champion Gene Fullmer.

The 39-year-old ring veteran said he will go to Los Angeles at the end of August. The fight is scheduled for the Coliseum there on Oct. 8.

"I still think I'm the best fighter in the division," said Robinson, who has held the middleweight crown five times. "I may be alone but I still feel that way."

Robinson was suspended by the Maryland commission May 19 for failing to show up for a May 18 fight in Baltimore against Pedro Gonzales. California joined New York and the National Boxing Assn. in recognizing the Maryland ruling.

The suspension was lifted at a commission hearing Monday. Charles H. Rosenbaum, commission chairman, said the California Boxing Commission interceded on Robinson's behalf.

Sugar Ray apologized for not appearing for the Gonzales fight, saying it "was just a big misunderstanding which I am extremely sorry about."

Robinson and Fullmer have met

3-Hitter by Ford Keeps Yanks Ahead

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

First Mickey Mantle, now Whitey Ford. The New York Yankees, long a bunch of marauders who struck on mass against the challengers, have come-battling back in the American League race on two fine one-man performances.

The Yanks looked almost as bad as any pennant contender can look when they were plunked out of first place by a doubleheader loss to Washington, Sunday. Mantle was vanked out of the second game for failing to run out a ground ball.

Mantle, pricked by pride, put 'em back on top with a pair of two-run homers that beat Baltimore 4-3 Monday night.

Ford kept them there Tuesday, working with just two days rest at his own request, the scrappy southpaw came through with his second straight three-hit, 1-0 decision as the Yankees swept the two-game series and dropped the Orioles from first to third.

Ford's performance, backed by a hit batter and singles by Yogi Berra and Johnny Blanchard for a fourth-inning run, kept the Yankees a half-game ahead of the Chicago White Sox. The defending champs, working with just two days rest at his own request, came through with his second consecutive three hit, 1-0 victory for series sweep over Orioles.

Hitting — Robbie, Landreth, Giants, drove in three runs with four hits, three of them doubles, in five at bats for 7-3 victory over the Cardinals.

In the National League, Pittsburgh swept two from Philadelphia, 11-2 and 4-3, for a 7½-game bulge over Milwaukee. The Braves took second place by beating Cincinnati 2-1, while San Francisco dropped St. Louis to third with a 7-3 decision. Los Angeles beat Chicago's Cubs 7-5 in 11 innings.

Ford, who beat Washington 1-0 Saturday, took some of the pressure off the Yankees' strained pitching staff with his quick comeback. He gave up a leadoff double by Jackie Brandt, then outdueling Chuck Estrada (13-7) by allowing only a fourth-inning single by Gene Woodling and an infield hit by Ron Hansen in the seventh.

A double steal by Jim Landis, who had singled, and Nellie Fox, who beat out a bunt, set up the winning eighth for the White Sox, drawing Harry Child, Al Smith's 11th home run had given the Sox a 1-0 lead in the second against loser Jim Bunning (7-9). Frank Baumann (8-5) was the winner.

The Senators blew a 2-0 lead, then scrapped back and broke a 2-2 tie on home runs by winning pitcher Pete Ramos (9-13) and Billy Consolo in a three-run eighth.

Florde and Gomes Fight for Title

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Champion Mash Florde of Manila and Harold Gomes of Providence, R.I., both eager for more cash, fought for the world junior lightweight title in a nationally televised 15-rounder.

The 9 p. m. EST (ABC-TV) fight in Civic Auditorium is a rematch of a March 18 Manila title bout when Florde dropped Gomes eight times. That battle brought the Filipino southpaw the 130-pound title on a seventh-round knockout.

Gomes blamed the 110-degree heat for his performance. Florde is a slight favorite of oddsmakers for tonight's fight.

SECTION 1. In addition to other powers granted by constitutional or statutory authority, cities of the first and second class may, by and with consent of a majority of the qualified electors of said municipality voting on the question at an election held for the purpose, bonds in sums and for the purposes approved by such majority at such election as follows:

For the payment of any indebtedness existing at the time of the adoption of this amendment; for the purchase of rights of way for construction of public streets, alleys, boulevards, and expressways, within the corporate limits of such municipality for the construction of, widening or straightening of streets, alleys, boulevards, expressways, and parking facilities, within the corporate limits of such municipality; for the purchase, development and class to levy additional taxes for the improvement of public parks, airways, municipal purpose, now or hereafter authorized; and such other facilities located either taxes or the rates thereof shall be limited by any existing constitutional provision.

SECTION 2. This amendment shall be in force upon its adoption, and shall not require legislative action to put it into force and effect. All provisions of this amendment, whenever, at any annual school election, a majority of the qualified electors of such city, and the amounts of such salaries shall not be limited by any existing Constitutional provision.

ing, or construction of water works or light plants, and distribution systems therefor; and for the purchase of sites for, improving or equipping harbor and river terminal facilities; and for the acquisition, development and construction of other municipal or public facilities and improvements. For the purchase, development and improvement of airports, waterworks, sewage disposal systems or any other municipal facilities which are, wholly or partially, located outside the boundaries of this State.

No bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall bear a greater rate of interest than six per cent per annum payable either annually or semi-annually; that is to say, the cost to the municipality for interest and discount, on each issue of bonds shall not exceed six per cent per annum, and no bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall ever be sold except at public sale after twenty days' advertisement in some newspaper having a bona fide circulation in the municipality issuing such bonds.

In order to provide for the payment of the bonds issued under the provisions of this amendment, and interest thereon, a special tax in addition to the legal rate permitted may be levied by municipalities on the real and personal taxable property therein. And any municipality issuing any bonds shall, before or at the time of doing so, levy a direct tax payable annually sufficient to pay the interest on such bonds as the same matures, and also sufficient to pay and discharge the principal of all such bonds at their respective maturities. The special tax permitted by this amendment shall not be subject to any constitutional limitation; provided, however, the General Assembly may by legislative act limit the rate of such taxation, which limitation shall be effective only upon a special tax levied for the payment of bonds issued after the effective date of such legislative act.

Said bonds shall be serial, maturing annually after three years from date of issue, and shall be paid off as they mature, and no bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall be issued for a longer period than forty years.

It shall be the duty of the mayor and city council or other governing body established by law, to exercise supervision over the sale of any bonds, which may be voted by the people at an election held for that purpose and they shall expend economically the funds so provided for the specified purposes for which they were voted.

Said election shall be held at such times as the city council may designate by ordinance, which ordinance shall specifically state the purpose for which the bonds are to be issued, and if for more than one purpose, provisions shall be made in said ordinance for balloting on each separate purpose; which ordinance shall state the sum total of the issue, the rates of maturity thereof and shall fix the date of election so that it shall not occur earlier than thirty days after the passage of said ordinance. Said election shall be held and conducted, and the vote thereof canvassed, and the result thereof declared under the law and in the manner now or hereafter provided for municipal elections, so far as the same may be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided. Notice of said election shall be given by the mayor by advertisement weekly for at least four times, in some newspaper published in said municipality and having a bona fide circulation therein; the last publication to be not less than ten days prior to the date of said election.

Qualified voters of said municipality at said elections. The result of said election shall be proclaimed by the mayor and the result as proclaimed shall be conclusive unless attacked in the courts within thirty days after the date of such proclamation. This amendment shall not repeal or affect any law relating to the organization of improvement districts.

SECTION 2. In addition to any existing Constitutional or Statutory provisions, and the powers granted under the provisions of this amendment, cities of the first and second class are hereby authorized to levy a tax on the real and personal property located within the corporate limits of five (5) mills on the dollar of the assessed value of such property. That the revenues from such tax may be used for any municipal purpose now or hereafter authorized.

SECTION 3. The General Assembly may by legislative act provide for the first and second class cities to levy additional taxes for the improvement of public parks, airways, municipal purpose, now or hereafter authorized; and such other facilities located either taxes or the rates thereof shall be limited by any existing constitutional provision.

SECTION 4. The salaries of officers and employees of cities of said class shall be fixed by the governing body of such cities, and the amounts of such salaries shall not be limited by any existing Constitutional provision.

SECTION 5. This amendment shall be in force upon its adoption, and shall not require legislative action to put it into force and effect. All provisions of this amendment, whenever, at any annual school election, a majority of the qualified electors of such city, and the amounts of such salaries shall not be limited by any existing Constitutional provision.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 52

BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate of the State of Arkansas, and by the House of Representatives of the State of Arkansas, a majority of all members elected to each House agreeing thereto:

That the following is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, and upon being submitted to the electors of the State for approval or rejection at the next general election for Representatives and Senators, if a majority of the electors voting thereon at such an election, adopt such amendment, the same shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, to-wit:

SECTION 1. Intelligence and virtue being the safeguards of liberty and bulwark of a free and good government, it is hereby declared to be the public policy of this State that the qualifications for Arkansas shall ever provide financial aid whereby all residents of this State between the ages of six and eighteen years may, as desired by them or their parents or guardians, receive gratuitous instruction; and that the manner of administering such aid can best be determined at the local level.

SECTION 2. Financial aid to carry out the aforesaid declared policy of the people of this State shall be raised at both the State and local levels through taxation now or hereafter authorized by law. Financial aid at the State level shall be provided in such amounts, and distributed to school districts under such formula, or formulas, as the General Assembly shall, from time to time, determine; and financial aid at the local level shall be provided in such amounts as shall from time to time be determined by the qualified electors of the respective school districts.

SECTION 3. The qualified electors of each school district shall have the right to determine by their vote at a special election, called for the purpose, the manner of applying the financial aid available for the instruction of residents of the district between the ages of six and eighteen years; and such instruction may be provided either: (a) through a system of free public schools whereof the district will provide the physical plant, employ instructors, and do any and all things necessary to maintain a general, suitable and efficient system of free schools to be operated by the district; or (b) through student education financial aid whereof the district will apply all available funds for the equal benefit of all such residents for the periods of time during which they respectively receive instruction in this State.

SECTION 4. Subject to such limitations as may be imposed by law, exclusive jurisdiction for the government of each school district shall be vested in a board of directors.

SECTION 5. There is hereby levied and there shall be collected an annual per capita tax of one dollar from each resident of this State over the age of twenty-one years, and the proceeds thereof shall be used for educational purposes in such manner as is now or as hereafter may be provided by law.

SECTION 6. Not less than fifteen days next preceding each annual school election, the board of directors of each school district shall prepare, approve and make public a proposed budget of expenditures in which there shall be set forth the amount of funds determined by the board as being necessary to provide, during the next following fiscal year, gratuitous instruction for residents of the district between the ages of six and eighteen years. The proposed budget shall set forth the estimated amounts, respectively, of funds necessary: (a) to meet the debt service requirements of the district's issued and outstanding bonds; (b) to meet its other contractual obligations; (c) to pay insurance premiums on and cost of maintenance or custodial care of, buildings and other property owned by the district; and (d) in such detail as the board shall determine the estimated amount of funds required from the total of the aforementioned requirements for the fiscal year shall be deducted the estimated amount of funds to be available to the district from State aid and from all other sources other than the local property tax and shall be designated and known as the budget deficit. Based upon the assessed valuation of all tax-able property within the territorial bounds of the district for the then current year, the board of directors shall determine the rate of tax levy necessary to provide, when applied to the amount of said budget deficit, the rate of tax levy of said budget deficit, and the rate of tax levy of said budget deficit shall be submitted for the approval or disapproval of the qualified electors of the district at the next following annual school election. The proposition shall approve the rate of tax levy proposed by the board of directors, then tax shall be collected at the rate approved. In the event the rate shall not be approved at any such election, then taxes shall be collected at the rate of thirty (30) mills on each dollar of assessed valuation, or at the rate approved at the next preceding annual school election, whichever rate shall be the lower figure. Provided, that no rate of tax levy shall ever be less than the aggregate of the rates of any continuing levies heretofore approved for the purpose of meeting the debt service requirements of the district's issued and outstanding bonds unless funds for the payment thereof shall have otherwise been specifically provided for.

SECTION 7. With respect to each school district, proposals for the issuance of bonds and for the collection of taxes at a continuing rate of levy for the payment thereof may be submitted by the board of directors for the approval or disapproval of the qualified electors voting on the proposition at a special election called for the purpose by the County Judge. No school district may issue bonds unless a majority of the qualified electors voting on any such proposition at a school election shall approve the same; and no bonds or other evidences of debt hereafter issued by any school district shall be secured by a lien on the property of the district, and no district may pledge any of its revenues for the payment of said bonds or other evidences of debt except revenues to be derived from the collection of taxes upon taxable property within the district under a continuing rate of levy approved by a majority of the qualified electors voting on the proposition at a school election. The principal amount of any proposed bond issue may include the estimated amount of interest to be due on such bonds during the first year.

SECTION 8. The manner of applying financial aid for the instruction of residents of any school district between the ages of six and eighteen years shall be changed, effective immediately, from the then existing manner to any other manner authorized by Section 4 hereof, whenever the proposition of making such change shall be approved by a majority vote of the qualified electors of the district voting on the proposition at a special school election called for that purpose by the County Judge of the county in which all or the major portion of the land area within the territorial bounds of any such district is located. The County Judge shall call such special election within thirty days after the receipt by him: (a) of a petition containing the signatures of not less than a majority of the board of directors of the district; or (b) of petitions containing the signatures of not less than ten per cent of the qualified electors of the district. Provided, that not less than twelve months shall elapse after any such special election before another special election may be called for the purpose and by hearing said just a little, of again voting on the proposition by a couple of whom south of Bonita. He decided this was probably the most sensible course and figured he'd likely arrive just about getting-up time.

SECTION 9. Father branch of the General Assembly at a regular or special session thereof may propose amendments to this measure, and, if any such proposal be agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to each house such proposal shall be submitted to the electors of the State for approval or rejection at a special election called for the purpose by the Governor, and if a majority of the qualified electors voting at such special election adopt such amendment the same shall be operative on and after the third day after the election at which it is approved, unless otherwise specified in the amendment. Nothing in this section contained shall be construed to limit the power of the General Assembly to submit proposed amendments to the measure as provided by Section 22 of Article IV of the Constitution of this State.

SECTION 10. The provisions of this measure are hereby declared to be severable.

SECTION 11. Article 11 and 40 of the Constitution of this State are hereby repealed.

SECTION 12. This amendment shall be self-executing, and its provisions shall be treated as mandatory, but laws shall be enacted by the General Assembly to carry out its operation.

SECTION 13. This amendment shall take effect and be in full force on and after the date of its approval at the November, 1960 General Election.

THE WOLF THAT RODE

By Nelson Nye

© Nelson Nye 1960 Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

THE STORY: Returning to Packer's Crossing, Brett Fasken finds himself pitted against his sister Jo in a rangeland war. Jo is universally feared and she is teamed up with a gun slinger called Rhode Island Red and a foreman as violent as she is. Brett has taken sides against Jo in defense of a rancher named Trone, who has a sister named Lola.

CHAPTER IX

Tice was on thin ice and he knew the girl had been in Packer's Crossing or that Brett, at the arguments he'd ever had with her, had stemmed directly out of that kid. "Did Red have trouble with Brett?"

Tice edged a look at her. "He got a little mouthy."

She put down her book. She got up out of the chair and moved about the narrow room, her face expressionless as one of Schrader's pokerfaced.

"I wouldn't worry about it," he said. "If he was able to get up he's able to get home."

She swiveled bleak eyes at her stare went right through him. "Don't talk like a fool."

There were some aspects of her connection with that kid he didn't want to understand, but he saved enough to guess pretty accurately what kind of pictures the night Brett had told her Clint Wilder was dead. She was probably seeing him standing over her with what was left of that wicked chair in his hands. She hadn't got around yet to remembering the man Red had killed, to seeing the kid's sneering face wreathed in gun smoke.

Josephine said thickly, "He's got to get out of here."

Tice didn't know which one of them she meant but he saw "Yeah," enormously encouraged at the idea of being rid of either. Both would have been better.

Brett remembered the Aravis as a tributary of the San Pedro River, having confluence with it some eight-to-10 miles below Winkelman and with its source somewhere in the neighborhood of Bonita, a long day's ride from Packer's Crossing.

He could stick with the river to Casabel, but if no one knew there the next chance was Washington and it might be as much as 10 miles out of the way. If he stayed clear of these gossip points and kept straight on north he might save considerable time and, by hearing said just a little, of again voting on the proposition by a couple of whom south of Bonita. He decided this was probably the most sensible course and figured he'd likely arrive just about getting-up time.

He wasn't at all sure he was doing the right thing hunting Trone, but the look of Trone's sister was still in his mind and it was dollars to doughnuts no one else would not him on Trone's requirements of the district's issued and outstanding bonds, to meet its other contractual obligations, and to pay insurance premiums on and cost of maintenance or custodial care of, buildings and other property owned by the district; and (d) in such detail as the board shall determine the estimated amount of funds required from the total of the aforementioned requirements for the fiscal year shall be deducted the estimated amount of funds to be available to the district from State aid and from all other sources other than the local property tax and shall be designated and known as the budget deficit. maybe mention having seen him. No telling what might come of this trip, and it things worked out. It brought the sweat out on him just thinking about her. He emptied as soon as he got out of the mountains, not to rest his heart-breathing-horse, but to hold to the schedule he'd laid out for himself. He wanted Trone to be gone when he got there in the middle of the morning was the most likely time. Two things Red didn't consider, he didn't know the girl had been in Packer's Crossing or that Brett, at the arguments he'd ever had with her, had stemmed directly out of that kid. ## UN Chief to Seek Ruling on Congo

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, headed back to New York today for a Security Council ruling on Premier Patrice Lumumba's demands that U.N. troops enforce his authority throughout the turbulent Congo.

Hammarskjöld decided to return to the UN council for new instructions after Lumumba in a bitter series of three letters said he no longer had confidence in the secretary-general. The fiery Congolese leader presented the demands which would invest him with sweeping powers and set up an Asian-African group to take over Hammarskjöld's supervision of the U.N. effort in the strife-torn area.

Hammarskjöld, due in New York tonight, asked Council President Armand Gerard of France to fix the date for the session so a delegation of four Congolese ministers would have time to arrive from Leopoldville — probably Wednesday.

Hammarskjöld turned down a request from Lumumba that he hold up his departure 24 hours so the Congolese delegation could accompany him. He suggested that Lumumba make the trip with him and said the council would wait for the mission to arrive.

Lumumba's anger with Hammarskjöld stemmed from the secretary-general's strict observance of Security Council instructions that the U.N. troops should stay neutral in internal political disputes.

The premier had counted on Hammarskjöld's government to put this government in control of Katanga province, whose mines furnished most of the Congo's pre-independence wealth. Premier Moise Tshombe proclaimed the province independent, accused Lumumba of being a Communist puppet and called on Belgian troops to maintain order.

Tshombe admitted U.N. troops to Katanga to replace the Belgians after Hammarskjöld assured him the Security Council's "hands off" promise would be strictly enforced. According to demands from Tshombe, the secretary-general refused to transport officials of Lumumba's government to Elga belville, the Katanga capital, and did not send to Katanga U.N. troops from Ghana and Guinea whose governments back Lumumba's claim to control of the province.

Cyprus Free of British 82-Year Rule

By ALEX EFTY

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) - Speeches, a 21-gun salute, cheers and fireworks marked the independence of the island of Cyprus today after 82 years of British rule.

But Greek Cypriots generally were disappointed with the terms.

A British artillery regiment fired off the 21-gun salute when the island became officially free at midnight.

Thousands in the streets of Nicosia cheered and began setting off fireworks.

About 200 Cypriot officials were packed into the Cyprus Parliament chamber, sweltering in heat above 100 degrees, for the official proclamation ceremony.

The Greek Cypriots, though welcoming the departure of the British and the achievement of self-government, feel cheated because their desire to unite with Greece is ruled out by the Zurich and London agreements under which the new state is set up.

The Greeks also complain that the Turkish Cypriot minority has been given almost equal status in affairs of state.

In a farewell message the last British governor of the island, Sir Hugh Pol, cited the Greek-Turkish rivalry.

"A few dismal commentators say that the people of Cyprus will destroy each other," Sir Hugh said, "that you will tear yourselves to bits, Greek against Turk and left against right. There are a few who say the island will go down in a sea of blood and hate. It could be, but I don't believe it."

Sir Hugh turned the reins of government over to the first president of Cyprus, Greek Orthodox Archbishop Makarios, the leader of the Greek community, and Vice President Fazil Kutchuk, leader of the Turkish community. They joined him and the Greek and Turkish ambassadors in signing the independence treaties.

Screenon and Gunter in Vote Hassle

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - The votes have been certified in the 19th District Senate race, but no official totals have been announced for Prairie and Lonoke counties.

Tabulations in these two counties probably will decide the race between Sen. Jerry Screenon of Hazen and J. T. Gunter of Austin.

Unofficial totals from the Aug. 9 runoff Democratic primary showed Gunter the apparent victor with 7,824 votes to 7,005 for Screenon, who was seeking a second term.

Certification in White and Woodruff counties yesterday cut Gunter's margin of victory to 139 votes. Gunter lost 83 votes in Woodruff County and seven in White. Screenon lost none in Woodruff and four in White.

Votes were certified in Prairie and Lonoke counties shortly before the midnight deadline set by law. But Democratic Committee in the two counties refused to announce the official totals.

Leon Catlett of Little Rock, secretary of the state Democratic Committee and the person with whom official totals must be filed by Friday, said he would announce the Prairie and Lonoke county votes as soon as he received them. He had not received them today.

Prairie County voted about 10-1 for Screenon and Lonoke went 3-1-2-1 for Gunter in the unofficial totals.

Screenon was criticized during the campaign for seeking reelection in the face of an intercounty agreement under which the state Senate seat was to go to a Lonoke County man this year. A state court held prior to the primary that such agreements were not legally binding on candidates.

H. W. Pfeifer, Sr. Dies, Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Harry W. Pfeifer Sr., 87, a former vice president of the Pfeifers of Arkansas department stores, died yesterday in a hospital here.

He was the son of the late Joseph Pfeifer, who founded Pfeifer & Miller Co., which grew into Pfeifers of Arkansas in 1965, for the No. 1 kind of program.

Harry Pfeifer joined the company in 1915 as sales manager. He was a wide scale health insurance and a brother. Leo, bought their father's interest in 1960 and two through the added social security other brothers later joined the firm.

A son, Harry W. Pfeifer Jr., extremely young and can be listed now is an executive in the company under the No. 2 type of program. Pfeifer, which has stores in Little Rock and Hot Springs.

Foot-in-Door Law Likely to Be Type of Medical Aid From Congress

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) - Since this is the foot-in-the-door period of American history, that may be the kind of medical care program for the aged Congress will produce in 1960.

In time of national crisis, urgency and emergency, you can look to Congress for fast, drastic and far-reaching legislation. When the country is prosperous, as it is now, and pressures are mild, Congress gets cautious and conservative.

It limits itself pretty much to foot-in-the-door legislation which, while it may set out down a new road, won't be extreme. What it does is open the door for more extensive legislation later, usually bit by bit.

Congressional action under crisis and pressure was demonstrated in the New Deal days of the 1930s when the country was stopped dead by depression and Congress passed the social security law, the 40-hour week, the Wagner labor act.

Under the stimulus of the Supreme Court's 1954 decision outlawing public school segregation, Congress in 1957 passed the first civil rights act of the 20th century.

This was a comparatively mild piece of legislation which, while it angered white Southerners, left Negroes and northern liberals displeased because it didn't go further.

This was the typical foot-in-the-door type of legislation when there was no national emergency. It was hardly more than a beginning. But, it opened the door for more action later.

This year Congress passed another civil rights act, still rather mild and limited. No doubt it will be followed in the years ahead by more civil rights legislation, each piece opening the door a little further.

For several years the idea of providing some kind of medical care for the 16 million people over 65 has been growing in the national consciousness and in Congress.

It has taken two main directions: 1. Provide medical care for most people over 65 - since most retired people's income is a lot less than when they worked - with the program paid for by a slight boost in the social security tax. This would mean a broad health insurance program for older people.

2. Provide a much narrower program by letting the states set up their own individual plans, with the federal government chipping in - through grants - to help pay the cost. This is the mild approach and would cover far fewer people than those who would be affected under No. 1.

Last June the House passed the No. 2 kind of bill, estimated to benefit perhaps 500,000 to one million people a year. Then it was up to the Senate to act. But in between times came the political conventions.

The Democratic platform called for letting the states set up their own individual plans, with the federal government chipping in - through grants - to help pay the cost. This is the mild approach and would cover far fewer people than those who would be affected under No. 1.

They probably would vary from state to state. Although the Democratic candidates - Sen. John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson - backed the kind of program promised in their party platform, they soon ran into a bottleneck.

The Senate Finance Committee cleared for action by the full Senate a medical care program which fell far short of the Democratic platform promise. Its bill was similar to the one passed by the House in June.

There will be a fight on the medical care program before this session of Congress ends. Perhaps the Kennedy-Johnson forces will win. More likely the result will be a mild, limited compromise.

But once such a program is passed it becomes a foot in the door for broader legislation later, if only a bit at a time.

compliance. The parents said a delay is also needed to allow for "community adjustment."

Should the suit fail, the parents also filed for an injunction to prevent interference with the school board from operating "free public schools."

The injunction would: Prevent Gov. Jimmy Davis from taking over operation of the schools and closing them to avoid integration. A state law gives Davis that power. The injunction attacks the constitutionality of that law.

Block execution of Civil District Judge Oliver Carriere's action prohibiting the board from complying with integration plans. Carriere ruled a state act gives the legislature the sole power to reclassifying schools as to race.

The suit and injunctive action name as defendants Gov. Davis, Atty. Gen. Jack Gremlinn, Carriere, the school board, and others.

Meanwhile, it was announced that a special three-judge federal court tribunal will convene here Aug. 23 to hear a motion to enjoin Davis and Gremlinn from preventing public school integration next month.

communication from Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov voicing disagreement with the secretary-general's interpretation of U.N. neutrality toward the dispute between Lumumba and Katanga Premier Moise Tshombe.

The Soviets have made plain they think the U.N. force should crush out Lumumba's wishes and subdue the rebellious provincial government.

The Belgian radio reported that a 20-mile-long column of native men, women and children was fleeing from Lulaburgh, capital of Kasai province, where the rival Lulua and Baluba tribes are locked in bloody warfare.

The broadcast said a special investigating committee of the central Congo government had reported that arrival of U.N. troops in the province had failed to end the tribal blood bath.
